

I am outraged that Sinclair Broadcasting will force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. What happened to media responsibility to present "fair and balanced" coverage of an important presidential election? How can a private broadcaster, allowed to use the public airwaves free of charge, be able to so blatantly flaunt their political interests and block the public interest?

Please force Sinclair to provide equal time for the Kerry side to rebut the anti-Kerry propaganda, or at least disallow the showing of this "documentary." WE deserve better in a democracy. Thank you.
